in partnership with Saffron Teaching School Hub

Early Years pedagogy and practice for TAs/LSAs

About the Session:

This development opportunity is for Teaching Assistants / Learning Support Assistants working within the Early Years (3 Years+).

Over two sessions, it will focus on the following:

- Ensuring those who support and facilitate learning are fully familiar with the revised Early learning Goals, non-statutory guidance materials, and the implications for day-to-day practice;
- 'Mastery' ethos in practice;
- Cementing understanding of progression in the Early Years;
- Exploring quality interactions, including questioning and effective communication with young children;
- Making the best use of observations for assessment and planning.

Those attending will be expected to carry out school based application/research tasks between sessions one and two. They will also leave the final session with a clear plan for development.

The facilitator for this training is Amanda James, Independent Consultant and Lead Consultant for the EYITT programme.
