Rosenshine's Principles in a Primary Classroom 2021-22

Aims:

- To understand 'Rosenshine's Principles' and what they look like in mathematics teaching and learning
- To consider effective practice in embedding these principles into the classroom

Session Outline

We will consider Rosenshine's 10 Principles within the context of Primary Maths Teaching. What does, say, daily and weekly review look like? How do we check for understanding in maths? What's involved?

We will exemplify each principle with good primary maths practice and consider any free materials to support their implementation in the classroom.

We will review current practice and develop an implementation plan for individuals and/ or the whole school to embed the Principle's over time.
